Thank you to all those that made the Valentines Day Banquet a success.

Thank you to all those that made the Tickfaw Trip a great time.

My four sons are always doing something hysterical. One day after church, my oldest son went to the kitchen to get some bread. He came to me, and with a concerned look on his face, he asked, "Mom, will I die if I eat bread and nobody's here?" I didn't understand what he meant so I asked him what he was talking about. He repeated the question and added, "The preacher said we couldn't live if we ate bread alone." I realized then what he meant. The sermon topic of the day was "Man can not live by bread alone."
